HOW TO READ A MUTUAL FUND FACTSHEET?

Do you know your Mutual Fund investment portfolio?

Do you know where your money is invested, or which stocks and sectors were added/removed after you invested in the fund?

Do you know your fund manager and his past performance?

Do you keep up with changes happening with your investments?

As an investor, you should seek answers to these questions before & after investing in a particular Mutual Fund. The Mutual Fund factsheet is a crucial source of information, facts, terminologies, figures, and disclosures that every investor should be aware of while investing in a particular fund.

IMPORTANCE OF A MUTUAL FUNDS FACTSHEET

- › For potential investors, it is necessary to check a mutual fund from various aspects before investing. A mutual fund factsheet helps to understand the risk, return, the fund's objective, portfolio allocation, etc.
- › With growing awareness about investments and the active promotion of mutual fund schemes, some investors may get trapped by misinterpreting mutual funds. Carefully reading a factsheet may help them understand the pros and cons of a scheme, which may help them to choose only those that suit their investment objectives and avoid others.

COMPONENTS OF A MUTUAL FUNDS FACT SHEET

BASIC FUND INFORMATION

A mutual fund factsheet usually contains the following basic information about the fund.

- › Investment objective: It could be to generate capital appreciation, provide regular income, offer liquidity to investors, etc.
- › Category: The category of the fund is specified. For e.g., equity, debt or hybrid scheme, and sub-categories like large-cap, mid-cap, small-cap, multi-cap equity scheme, conservative hybrid scheme or aggressive hybrid scheme, etc.
- › Type of scheme: It could be an open-ended, close-ended or interval scheme, growth or dividend fund, liquidity fund, etc.
- › Assets under management: The total sum of the market value of all securities in the scheme.
- › Benchmark index against which the performance of the scheme can be compared.
- › The minimum amount of investments required for a lump sum or a Systematic Investment Plan (SIP).
- › Exit load: An investor would need to pay charges for redeeming mutual fund units or exiting the mutual fund scheme.
- › Riskometer: It indicates the level of risk involved in the concerned mutual fund. The needle of the risk-o-meter points to the amount of risk involved, which can be low, low to moderate, moderate, moderately high, high or very high.

PORTFOLIO ALLOCATION

Mutual funds involve an investment of pooled money across various assets and sectors. The mutual fund factsheet constitutes crucial information about the portfolio allocation, which can give you the answer to the following questions:

- › In which assets is the money being invested?
- › What percentage of net assets is invested in which assets/securities?
- › In which industries/ sectors is the money being invested?
- › What percentage of net assets is invested in which industries?
- › What percentage of net assets is invested in which companies?
- › How much cash is idle?

PERFORMANCE ANALYSIS

Another crucial part of a mutual fund factsheet is the details of the fund's historical performance. Usually, this part includes a comparison of scheme returns, SIP returns, returns against the benchmark, and the overall return of the market for one year, three years, five years, ten years or more.

DETAILS ABOUT THE FUND MANAGER

The mutual fund factsheet includes details about the fund manager's qualifications and experience. It may also contain information about the historical returns of the funds managed by the fund manager.

It is important to understand the factsheet because fund managers will analyse market trends, make investment strategies and ensure legal compliance. They are going to make investment decisions which can have a significant impact on returns generated by mutual funds.

CONCLUSION

You don't have to be a market expert to stay on top of your investments. However, it is important to learn some basics even when you consult a professional. You can start with a mutual fund factsheet and read more about mutual funds and their working. The factsheets are fairly easy to read and provide deep insight into your mutual fund working.

Dear Investors,

The seasonal phenomenon of October Heat takes over as the Southwest monsoon retreats, leaving behind an oppressive climate. Seasonality also plays a role in the stock markets. Equity bulls often point out that the last quarter of the calendar year (October to December) tends to be favourable for equity markets. However, bears are quick to remind us of some major crashes that occurred in October in global equity markets. While such seasonal patterns and trends can influence investor sentiment depending on one's financial situation and mindset, it is important not to lose sight of the bigger picture. Missing the forest for the trees can be detrimental, especially when it comes to investments.

Focusing excessively on short-term market movements-such as one-month returns or potential developments in the next quarter-can hinder the long-term process of wealth creation. Market participants may differ in their short-term views on where the Nifty50 index will move, but most would agree that over the next decade, it is likely to rise significantly. If that is the case, investors should devote less attention to temporary market fluctuations and instead remain focused on their long-term wealth creation goals.

Wealth accumulated over the long term helps us to meet key financial goals. Strong domestic macroeconomic indicators continue to highlight the wealth creation potential of Indian equities. In its recent monetary policy review, the Reserve Bank of India has revised the real gross domestic product (GDP) growth estimate upward to 6.8% for FY2026, from 6.5% in the previous review. At the same time consumer price inflation (CPI) was projected lower at 2.6% against previous estimate of 3.1%. The combination of higher growth and benign inflation, despite a volatile external situation due to geo-political tensions and ongoing trade war, indicates the strength of India's macro fundamentals. It makes a compelling case for investing in diversified equity portfolios.

Investors concerned about relatively high equity valuations should watch the upcoming second-quarter results and management commentaries. Lower interest rates and the implementation of rationalised rates of Goods & Services Tax (GST) in September are likely to encourage consumers to loosen their purse strings during the ongoing festive season. Booming auto sales could be an early signal of improving demand trends. As we enter into the second half of the FY2026, the momentum in infrastructure project awards should accelerate. Together, both the engines of India growth story – domestic consumption and government capital expenditure, should rejuvenate the market sentiments. Financial markets, which typically discount the future in advance, may witness earnings upgrades in domestically focused sectors. Sector rotation could also emerge with new high potential sectors leading the next phase of the bull run. The same dynamic could play out across asset classes as well.

Most Indian households hold a portion of their wealth in precious metals, especially gold, and have been rewarded by the rally in gold prices over the last couple of years. However, investing in gold and silver with the sole objective of replicating the returns seen in the recent quarters may not constitute prudent investing. Investors should allocate to stocks, bonds and commodities including precious metals in line with their overall asset allocation. Importantly, this asset allocation should be guided primarily by their financial goals and risk profile rather than by past performance of individual asset classes.

Many investors nowadays consider fixed income as a boring asset class. However, it can help in managing the downside risk of the overall portfolio. The Reserve Bank of India remains focused on targeting inflation while supporting economic growth. In the current environment of benign inflation, real interest rates (nominal interest rates on bonds minus the rate of inflation) are attractive. Investors may consider allocating to debt funds to meet near-term financial goals or to build an emergency corpus. Hybrid funds investing in a mix of stocks and bonds bring in the advantages of both asset classes and can be useful for building wealth to meet medium- and long-term financial objectives.

This festive season, let every investor take a step towards their financial goals by starting a Systematic Investment Plan (SIP). May this Diwali bring joy, prosperity, and a stronger foundation for a brighter financial future. Wishing everyone a prosperous Diwali and a rewarding investing journey!

Happy Investing!

EQUITY

Market Review

- September 2025 witnessed a cautiously optimistic tone in Indian equity markets, shaped by a mix of global and domestic developments. The announcement of fresh US tariffs stirred global trade concerns, while domestically, the rollout of amendments to GST featuring targeted rate cuts boosted sentiment around consumption and business activity. Additionally, the latest GDP growth data provided a reassuring signal on the economy's resilience. Against this backdrop, Nifty 50 Index closed the month with a gain of 0.8%, while the Nifty Midcap 150 Index gained 1.4% and the Nifty Smallcap 250 Index gained 1.1%.
- Sectoral performance was mixed bag in September 2025, with Metals (9.4%), Auto (5.9%), Oil & Gas (5.4%), Power (5.0%), Capital Goods (4.4%), and Bankex (2.5%) posted strong gains outperforming the broader market index during the month of September 2025. Conversely, IT (-3.6%), Consumer Durables (-4.9%), FMCG (-2.4%), Healthcare (-1.3%) and Realty (-0.4%) ended in the month in red.
- The CPI (Consumer Price Index) inflation saw a marginal uptick to 2.07% in August 2025, primarily driven by food inflation, which exited the deflation zone. WPI (Wholesale Price Index) inflation came in at 0.52% (YoY). The uptick was led by higher prices in food products, other manufacturing, non-food articles, other non-metallic mineral products and other transport equipment.
- Adding to the positive sentiment, the OECD (Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development) raised India's GDP growth forecast for 2025 to 6.7%. The upgrade was driven by strong domestic demand and the anticipated impact of GST reforms. The OECD also highlighted that policy easing and increased public investment are reinforcing growth momentum, while resilient consumption is helping offset risks from export tariffs.

Capital Flows:

- In September 2025, domestic institutional investors were net buyers, investing ₹ 65,343 crore. Over the past 12 months, domestic institutional investors have recorded cumulative net purchases of ₹ 764,620 crore. Foreign institutional investors were net sellers in September 2025, with net selling of ₹ 23,885 crore (approximately USD 2.7 billion). For the past 12 months, foreign institutional investors registered a net outflow of ₹ 2,54,703 crore (approximately USD 29.6 billion). (September 2025 Avg, 1 USD = INR 88.3).

Market Outlook

- During August 2025 and September 2025, several major central banks prioritized domestic growth and employment concerns over inflation, leading to reductions in their benchmark interest rates. In September 2025, the US Federal Reserve cut its policy rate by 25 basis points. In India, The Reserve Bank of India's Monetary Policy Committee decided to hold the repo rate steady at 5.50%, while maintaining a 'neutral' policy stance. Based on the RBI's growth and inflation forecasts, there appears to be scope for additional monetary easing.
- The Reserve Bank of India has raised its growth forecast for FY26 to 6.8%, up from the earlier estimate of 6.5%. This revision primarily stems from stronger-than-expected GDP performance in the first half of the fiscal year, although the RBI anticipates a moderation in growth during the second half. The RBI Governor emphasized that while domestic fundamentals remain solid and continue to support economic momentum, external challenges present risks to the overall outlook.
- The INR came under increased pressure following the implementation of the additional tariff. Beyond the uncertainty stemming from tariff-related developments, persistent outflows from foreign portfolio investors—especially in the equity segment—further contributed to the currency's weakness. However, India's macroeconomic fundamentals continue to exhibit strength, marked by solid GDP growth, subdued inflation, ample external reserves, and prudent fiscal management. Consequently, over the long term, pressures on the INR are expected to ease, with the currency likely to stabilize.
- Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation eased to 2.07% in August 2025, a notable decline from August 2024. This moderation in headline inflation is largely attributed to subdued food inflation, which continues to provide a cushion. Favorable agricultural conditions—such as improved sowing of key crops like rice and pulses, an above-normal monsoon, and healthy reservoir levels—are expected to support further softening in food prices. Additionally, the shift of a significant portion of food, beverage, and core inflation items into lower GST brackets is likely to contribute to a continued downward trend in overall inflation.
- The outlook for growth in the second half of the fiscal year is optimistic. Key drivers may include robust corporate balance sheets and the government's continued emphasis on structural reforms, which may remain pivotal strengths of the economy. The transformative GST reforms are expected to yield enduring benefits—enhancing ease of doing business, reducing retail prices, and reinforcing the foundations of consumption-led growth.
- Monetary policy easing, implemented proactively, has shown strong transmission effects. When combined with household income tax relief and employment-boosting initiatives, these measures have created favorable conditions for a sustained rise in consumption demand in H2. This momentum could potentially spark a virtuous cycle of increased investments and stronger growth dynamics, helping India navigate persistent global uncertainties with resilience.
- India's growth story remains anchored in expectations of improved consumption, a renewed emphasis on domestic manufacturing, robust capital buffers in banks, and deleveraged balance sheets of large corporates, which bode well for medium- to long-term prospects. In the short term, growth risks arise from geopolitical tensions and economic slowdowns in key export markets. However, these challenges are balanced by strong high-frequency domestic indicators and ongoing infrastructure development.
- Our preference is to focus on established market leaders who are less susceptible to disruption and demonstrate the ability to innovate within their business segments, ensuring their leadership position and competitive edge remain robust. Sustainable value creation is a core principle of our investment strategy, which prioritizes companies with strong governance standards, high capital efficiency, defensible franchises with significant moats, and long-term growth potential.

DEBT Market Review

● In its October meeting, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) unanimously decided to keep the repo rate unchanged at 5.50%, with the Marginal Standing Facility (MSF) rate at 5.75% and the Standing Deposit Facility (SDF) rate at 5.25%, in line with market expectations. However, two out of six members of the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) voted in favour of changing the policy stance from neutral to accommodative. The overall tone of the policy was dovish, with the RBI Governor highlighting that the space for further monetary easing has now opened up. This marks a shift from the June policy, where the Governor had stated that the bar for additional rate cuts remained high.

● The dovish tilt was primarily supported by a positive growth outlook and benign inflation conditions, aided by Goods and Services Tax (GST) rate rationalization and a favourable monsoon.

● Revised Macroeconomic Projections

● CPI (Consumer Price Index) Inflation:

● FY25–26: 2.6% (revised down by 50 basis points from 3.1%)

● Quarterly Projections:

- Q2: 1.8%
- Q3: 1.8%
- Q4: 4.0%
- Q1 FY26–27: 4.5%

● GDP Growth:

● FY25–26: 6.8% (revised up by 30 basis points from 6.5%)

● Quarterly Projections:

- Q2: 7.0%
- Q3: 6.4%
- Q4: 6.2%
- Q1 FY26–27: 6.4%

● The H2FY26 G-sec issuance calendar showed a reduced concentration in ultra-long duration bonds segment compared to H1, with an increased focus on the 3-year, 5-year, and 10-year maturities. Rejig of the H2 borrowing calendar signals both the Government of India as well as RBI's uneasiness towards elevated yields on the longer end.

- Systemic liquidity has remained in surplus, averaging ₹2.1 lakh crore since August 2025. The average daily net absorption under the Liquidity Adjustment Facility (LAF) eased from ₹3.1 lakh crore in July to ₹1.6 lakh crore as of September 29, 2025.
- Looking ahead, the drawdown of government cash balances and the upcoming 75 bps Cash reserve Ratio (CRR) cut are expected to support banking system liquidity in the near term, facilitating smoother transmission of earlier rate cuts.
- CPI inflation for August stood at 2.1%, up from 1.6% in July, but still lower than market expectations. Food inflation registered a slight uptick, while cereal inflation continued to moderate. Core inflation remained broadly unchanged, with an increase in core goods inflation driven primarily by higher gold prices offset by moderation in services inflation.
- The GST Council approved a revised rate structure effective September 22, streamlining the tax framework into two principal rates: 5% and 18% with the 12% and 28% slabs have been eliminated. Most items previously taxed at 12% now fall under the 5% category, while those under 28% move to 18%. Sin goods and luxury items will be taxed at 40%. This rationalization of GST rates is expected to help moderate inflation, provide a boost to GDP growth, and mitigate the impact of bilateral tariffs.
- In its September meeting, the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) reduced the policy rate by 25 basis points to 4.00–4.25%, in line with market expectations, with 11 out of 12 members supporting the move. One member favoured a deeper 50 basis points cut.
- The decision was primarily driven by rising concerns over unemployment amid a slowdown in job openings, coupled with weaker growth in H1, largely attributable to subdued consumption expenditure.

Outlook

- The MPC reiterated that future policy actions will remain data-dependent, as global macroeconomic uncertainties, elevated public debt levels, and policy risks continue to weigh on the outlook. The downward revision in growth projections reflects persistent global trade headwinds and prolonged geopolitical conflicts.
- Domestic demand dynamics, however, remain supportive. Urban demand is expected to strengthen as private consumption and investment activity revive, aided by the government's GST rationalisation measures.
- On inflation, the outlook remains benign with food price pressures easing, supported by adequate buffer stocks and 'above-normal' monsoon conditions. Externally, the US Fed has resumed its rate cut cycle, delivering a 25 bps cut with another 50 bps expected by Dec-25, which may help stabilise the INR.
- Given a stable currency, easing inflation, and moderating growth prospects, the RBI may find room for additional monetary easing of 25–50 bps in H2FY26.
